

They keep fighting— You keep buying WAR BONDS

VOLUME 48

ONE KILLED, ANOTHER
WOUNDED IN SHOOTING
SATURDAY MORNING

E. W. Yarbrough, young white man, was killed and his brother, James, was wounded in the left hand in a shooting affair which occurred last Saturday morning on the Dorrough plantation at Danley's Cross Roads. One bullet from a revolver penetrated E. W.'s left side and he died within a few seconds, according to reports, J. D. Dorrough was placed in jail during the morning charged with the shooting.

Rumors going the rounds are that the men had been having some trouble or misunderstanding during the year, and the climax came while all three were in a field Saturday morning. Dorrough will claim self-defense, it is reported, stating that the Yarbrough boys were advancing on him with a pitchfork. Complete details of the unfortunate affair have not been learned. The Yarbrough family, tenants on the plantation of Mrs. Dorrough, moved to that section in the spring of this year, from their former home in the Southeastern part of the county. Funeral plans for the slain man were made in Enterprise and were not available for The Clipper.

Justice W. H. Haire stated Wednesday morning that he had been informed that a preliminary hearing for Dorrough would probably be arranged for next week, the exact date not being known.

PREACHING AT LIBERTY

The regular preaching service will be held at Liberty Church Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. Come, worship with us.

C. P. Roberts.

Friends of Mrs. Mattie Vaughan will regret to learn that she has been quite ill for several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Adkinson on Davis street. On Tuesday it was reported that she was slightly improved.

A Checking Account

With us eliminates time wasted waiting in line and hurrying from place to place to pay bills. When you pay by check, you know exactly where you stand financially at all times. Your cancelled check is a legal receipt, proof of payment. Open a checking account today—it's the business-like way to handle your funds.

ELBA EXCHANGE BANK

J. F. BRUNSON, Pres. E. G. BRAGG, Vice-Pres.
T. E. BRYAN, Cashier
LUNA DELLE RINGO, Assistant Cashier

Preserve Your Property!

Not only does a new roof look good, but it keeps your house and barn, etc., from deteriorating.

Brik-Siding keeps the cold wind out and is really an asset in good appearance.

"If Its Available-- We Have It"

Bonneau-Jeter Hdw. Co.

Phone 109

Elba, Alabama

THE ELBA CLIPPER

ELBA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1944

NUMBER 17

PRIVATE ROWELL IS
MEMBER OF FAMOUS
2D ARMORED DIVISION

Private Levy A. (Buster) Rowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Rowell, Elba Route 3, is a member of the famous 2d Armored Division which has participated in campaigns in North Africa and Sicily, and is now in France. In a recent letter to his parents Pvt. Rowell sends a news dispatch written by Hal Boyle to the Associated Press and approved by military authorities, which gives a good account of the division's activities during the past two years. We reproduce the article here:

The 2d Armored Division in Normandy, July 31, 1944—The United States Army lifted a two-year veil of secrecy today to honor the armored anvil on which Bradley's forces have beaten to pieces thousands of Rommel's best fighting men—and that anvil is the fighting "Hell on Wheels"—the 2d Armored Division.

In announcing the presence in France of this famous military outfit, the United States First Army released for publication for the first time the Division's combat record in this war.

Since it made news headlines under General Patton in maneuvers in Louisiana and the Carolinas, there had been no official disclosure as to what use was being made of this "steel showpiece" in the American military show window.

It can now be told for the first time that this best-trained Armored Division in history spearheaded the American invasion of French Morocco and its three-day conquest in November of 1942, and just a year ago this month smashed across Sicily to cut the island in half and isolated and captured thousands of Italian and German prisoners.

Most of the veterans of these two previous amphibious operations were still in the Division when General Bradley again took off the wraps less than a week ago and sent it into battle line with orders to crush through the "unbreakable" German St. Lo-Lessay defense line.

And they have come through gloriously for the third time—just as they did in Morocco, just as they did at Palermo—and just as these "Hell on Wheels" boys always do when the chips are down.

The 2d Armored Division has always had a tradition of fighting men and fighting commanders since it was activated on July 15, 1940, at Fort Benning, Ga., one month after the fall of France, as one of the two original Armored Divisions.

Of its several commanders, the best-known to the public is Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., who led it from September, 1940, to January, 1942, and who regarded it as the foremost striking force in the American Army and the toughest and best Armored Division in any Army. He wanted his tankmen to be tough and he did this by being tough on them—subjecting them to repeated grueling maneuvers.

When, as commander of the Western Task Force, Patton called upon them to bolster the wreckstrewn beaches of French Morocco, they stood true to their training. They landed at Port Yyautey, Fedala and Safi. Those at Port Yyautey worked with Navy dive bombers to knock out 24 of 32 attacking French tanks. Those at Safi flung back a counterattack from the mountain resort town of Marrakesh, and converged on Casablanca as the armistice was being signed.

I was with the group that landed at Fedala, 16 miles north of Casablanca, Continued on page two

V-E DAY IN ELBA TO BE OBSERVED IN DIGNIFIED MANNER

If war ceases after night, we will be closed all next day. If it comes on Sunday, we will be closed on Monday. It will be a day of worship and thanksgiving. Please let's not celebrate with noise-makers and boyish acting, riding high, drinking, etc.

Services will be held in all churches in town, we hope.

We will be notified that hostilities have ceased in Europe by ten short blows by our fire alarm in Elba.

We wish to urge all stores, schools and public places of business to cooperate in closing.

We hope each church will plan a Thanksgiving service at night.

Everyone will be asked to gather on the square on the west side for a short sunrise program at 7:00 o'clock in the morning. There will be 10 blows by our fire alarm at 6:45 for us to gather.

V-E Day Committee, Sam E. Sawyer, F. E. Clark, H. Jeter.

Sponsored by Lions Club.

CAN'T TELL YET

Frank Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Young, who has recently joined the U. S. Navy, says he cannot tell yet whether his outfit is part of the fighting forces, or just taking in washing. At any rate, he wishes his friends in Elba to write him at this address:

Francis W. Young A-S, Company 1837, U.S.N.T.C., Great Lakes, Ill.

FOURTH QUARTERLY CONFERENCE, OCT. 10

The fourth quarterly conference of the churches comprising the Elba charge of the Methodist Church will be held at Elba Tuesday evening, Oct. 10, at 8:00 o'clock.

Rev. W. E. Middlebrooks, District Superintendent, will preside. A full representation from all churches of the charge is requested.

Classified Advertising

If you want to buy, sell, swap, rent or locate lost property, try an adv. in this column.

FOR SALE: 158 acres of land, located 10 miles north of Elba, 1/4 mile east of Troy and Elba highway. T. F. Sanders, Jack, Ala., Rt. 1.

BIDDIES EVERY THURSDAY. Also taking orders for shoes—have Charles Chester, Mason, Ortho Vent and Merritt brands. I. N. Heath, Elba.

WOOD FOR SALE: Stove wood, heater wood, fire wood; delivered same day order taken; get your winter supply now. John E. Wise, Elba, Ala. O26.

FARM FOR SALE: The J. W. Donaldson homestead, containing 166 acres, will be offered for sale this fall. For further information, see C. P. Donaldson, 705 Brundidge Blvd., Troy, or G. C. Donaldson, Rt. 1, Enterprise. O12.

NOTICE

I have moved back to my old stables in front of Talley's Cafe. Come to see me. I have all kinds of mules.

John Brown.

CHARM-KURL PERMANENT WAVE. See! Do your own permanent with Charm-Kurl kit. Easy to use, absolutely harmless. Requires no heat, electricity or machines. Safe for every type of hair. Frattened by millions including June Lang, glamorous movie star. Whitman Drug Company.

WORKERS NEEDED
TODAY AT RED CROSS
FOR SPECIAL WORK

Every woman in Elba who can possibly do so, is urged to go to the Red Cross rooms this afternoon (Thursday) at three o'clock for a special assignment. A large number of sheets and other items for the hospital at Camp Lucker are needed at once, and there will be plenty of work for every one.

Those in charge of this special work would like to get the job completed today, and that is the reason for the urgent appeal for help. Won't you come help them?

MADE CORPORAL

Joseph Bryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bryan of Elba, has been promoted to the grade of Corporal, according to news just received. He is now with the American Armed Forces in Belgium, and writes that he would like to be in Coffee for the squirrel hunting season, but that he has plenty of "big game" hunting over there, and wishes to stay until the job is completed. His friends will be interested to know of his promotion.

MR. WINDHAM HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

On Sunday, Oct. 1, some of the relatives and friends of W. P. Windham assembled at his home on the Elba-Troy highway to celebrate his 72nd birthday. This occasion brought together the following:

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Windham, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Windham, New Brockton; Mr. and Mrs. Gus Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stevens and daughters, Mary Ann and Johnnie Sue, Misses Maye and Emma Windham, Damascus; Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Young and son, Sam, Mrs. Oscar English, Buddy Windham, Elba; Dr. and Mrs. Whitfield and Mrs. Adger Moore, Dothan; Mrs. Mae Weeks and Miss Nettie Weeks, Coffee Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beasley, Mrs. Ralph Riley and daughter, Susan, Andalusia; Miss Bernice Fryer, Troy; Cpl. James Murdoc, Spokane, Wash.

The two soldier sons of Mr. Windham could not be home for this enjoyable occasion, but nevertheless it was a very pleasant day for all. Pictures were made in pairs, in trios and a group including all present. The one picture of most interest was of Mr. and Mrs. Windham displaying the beautiful birthday cake, a gift of Mrs. Riley.

There was much reminiscence among the older groups and other diversions for the younger ones. At the noon hour a sumptuous feast was spread in the yard. Dr. Whitfield graced the table, asking God's blessing on all assembled, as well as our troubled world. After more visiting, the guests began to depart, assuring the honoree of a pleasant day and wishing him many more happy birthdays.—Contributed.

Lieut. and Mrs. James Martin have been spending several days in Elba with relatives. He has recently been transferred to Mississippi from Fort Sill, Okla.

Sgt. Dock Bragg, who has been stationed at Camp Cooke, Calif., for the past several months, is spending a two-weeks furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Bragg, Jack Route 1. He will leave next Tuesday for Camp Haan, Calif., where he has new army assignment.

Joe Brooks, who left several days ago to enter military training, has been assigned to Pass Christian, Miss., where he expects to be stationed for some time.

CHARLES HARRISON
WITH ARMY IN FRANCE
IS NOW CAPTAIN

First Lieut. Charles Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollan Harrison, of Elba, who is now on assignment somewhere in France, has been promoted to the rank of Captain, effective as of September 15. Charles was a member of Battery D, ANG, and has been in service for a number of years. He was with the battery for a long time after it was mustered into Federal Service and trained with the boys in many different camps, and has been overseas for several months. Friends will be glad to learn of his promotion.

Those in charge of this special work would like to get the job completed today, and that is the reason for the urgent appeal for help. Won't you come help them?

We will be notified that hostilities have ceased in Europe by ten short blows by our fire alarm in Elba.

We wish to urge all stores, schools and public places of business to cooperate in closing.

We hope each church will plan a Thanksgiving service at night.

Everyone will be asked to gather on the square on the west side for a short sunrise program at 7:00 o'clock in the morning. There will be 10 blows by our fire alarm at 6:45 for us to gather.

V-E Day Committee, Sam E. Sawyer, F. E. Clark, H. Jeter.

Sponsored by Lions Club.

CAN'T TELL YET

Frank Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Young, who has recently joined the U. S. Navy, says he cannot tell yet whether his outfit is part of the fighting forces, or just taking in washing. At any rate, he wishes his friends in Elba to write him at this address:

Francis W. Young A-S, Company 1837, U.S.N.T.C., Great Lakes, Ill.

FOURTH QUARTERLY CONFERENCE, OCT. 10

The fourth quarterly conference of the churches comprising the Elba charge of the Methodist Church will be held at Elba Tuesday evening, Oct. 10, at 8:00 o'clock.

Rev. W. E. Middlebrooks, District Superintendent, will preside. A full representation from all churches of the charge is requested.

Classified Advertising

If you want to buy, sell, swap, rent or locate lost property, try an adv. in this column.

FOR SALE: 158 acres of land, located 10 miles north of Elba, 1/4 mile east of Troy and Elba highway. T. F. Sanders, Jack, Ala., Rt. 1.

BIDDIES EVERY THURSDAY. Also taking orders for shoes—have Charles Chester, Mason, Ortho Vent and Merritt brands. I. N. Heath, Elba.

WOOD FOR SALE: Stove wood, heater wood, fire wood; delivered same day order taken; get your winter supply now. John E. Wise, Elba, Ala. O26.

FARM FOR SALE: The J. W. Donaldson homestead, containing 166 acres, will be offered for sale this fall. For further information, see C. P. Donaldson, 705 Brundidge Blvd., Troy, or G. C. Donaldson, Rt. 1, Enterprise. O12.

NOTICE

I have moved back to my old stables in front of Talley's Cafe. Come to see me. I have all kinds of mules.

John Brown.

CHARM-KURL PERMANENT WAVE. See! Do your own permanent with Charm-Kurl kit. Easy to use, absolutely harmless. Requires no heat, electricity or machines. Safe for every type of hair. Frattened by millions including June Lang, glamorous movie star. Whitman Drug Company.

Your War Bond Investment Is Your Investment In America . . .

CAPTAIN PERDUE
GETS DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS

An Eighth Air Force Liberator, son of Mr. and Mrs. Captain Frank D. Perdue, Elba, Ala., a pilot on a B-24 Liberator bomber, has recently been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for "extraordinary achievement" in bombing missions over Germany and Occupied Europe.

Captain Perdue is a member of the oldest Liberator bombardment group in the Eighth Air Force. Besides the DFC and Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, he also wears the Distinguished Unit Ribbon. His unit was cited by the War Department for action in the Battle of Ploesti on August 1, 1943, entitling all officers and men in the organization to wear the ribbon.

During his career with the great fleets of Eighth Air Force "heavies," Captain Perdue has participated in assaults on Mannheim, Metz, Granville, and targets in the Pas de Calais area. Recently he returned to the States. He is now on assignment in Tennessee.

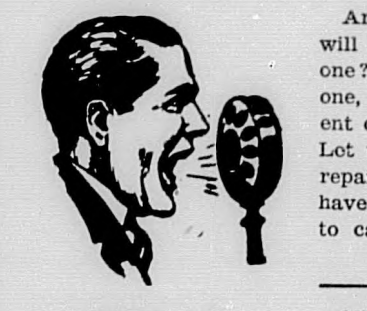

LITTLE BOY DIES

Charles R. Bowden, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bowden, of the Ino community, died at the Enterprise hospital on Wednesday, September 20, following a short illness of pneumonia.

Surviving besides the parents are one brother, Jim Parker Bowden. Funeral services were held at New Home Church with Rev. O. M. Fox officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery. Hayes Funeral home had charge of arrangements.

The Clipper received a card several days ago from Mr. E. W. Ellis ordering his paper sent to Route 1, Pansy, Ala. He taught in the Coffee County schools for 21 years, but has accepted a position in Houston for the coming year. Friends will be interested to learn that he is pleasantly located.

DORSEY SEZ:

PHONE 146

You Can Count On Us To Care For Your Car!

Are you wondering if your car will last until you can get a new one? We can't sell you a new one, but we can service your present car, thereby adding to its life. Let us check it regularly for any repairs that might be needed. We have mechanics that know how to care for your car.

All Kinds of Auto Accessories, Tires, Etc.

We Want To Buy Your Peanuts

Our Warehouse is open and ready to serve you. You will always get Quick, Convenient Weighing and Unloading Service here.

We Pay Promptly

You get a check as soon as Peanuts are unloaded—no waiting or delays of any kind. Give us a chance to buy your Peanuts. We will appreciate your patronage.

Whitman Gin Co.

FLOURNOY WHITMAN, PROP.
ELBA, ALABAMA

OCTOBER

THE ELBA CLIPPER

Published Every Thurs. Morning

R. C. Bryan... Owner-Publisher

Entered as second class matter July 18, 1905, at the Postoffice at Elba, Alabama, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE

In Coffee County

One Year $1.50

Six Months .75

Outside Coffee County

One Year $2.00

Six Months $1.00

CASH IN ADVANCE

No subscription accepted for less than 6 months. All names will be cut off on expiration date.

TO THE CITIZENS OF COFFEE COUNTY

We, as employees of the Department of Conservation, Division of Forestry, hereby pledge ourselves (together with the cooperation of the landowners), to carry out every program of the Department of Forestry in the way of keeping fires off of your lands.

Each citizen or landowner can be of great service to us in their every day line of work by their cooperation in the program of fire prevention. Information about fires, as to how the fire started, when it started, where it started and who started it. When such information is received by an employee you can feel assured that you have done them a great favor as well as doing the same for your county.

This program is a good one and one for every human being in our county today, and should not be misinterpreted, but treated with better cooperation throughout the entire nation than ever before. The people should wake up to the fact that, our timber is being used much faster than we are growing it and that it is paying off today and will continue to pay off for years to come, in dollars and cents more than it costs to plant.

Therefore, it behooves every true citizen of the nation to join in this great program of fire prevention, that every effort be put forth in assisting in keeping down the spread of forest fires.

Let us forget this work is for the future as well as for the present. The future can be brighter than the fruits of our minds and hands make it.

Very sincerely,
FRANK PRICE,
District Forest Ranger.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bowman and Miss Mamie Lou Bowman visited Mrs. Sam McCollough Wednesday afternoon.

for sale at Clipper Office.
Short and long mortgages

QUICK RELIEF FROM

Symptoms of Distress from

STOMACH ULCERS

DUE TO EXCESS ACID

FreeBookTellsHowtoTreatthem!

Over two million bottles of the WILLARD PEPSIDEN have been sold for relief of distress arising from Stomach and Duodenal Ulcers due to Excess Acid. Poor Digestion, Sour or Watery Stomach, Gas, Heartburn, Bloating, etc. Ask for "Willard's Message" which explains the cause and treatment.

ELBA DRUG COMPANY

WHITMAN DRUG COMPANY

NOTICE OF BOND SALE

Notice is hereby given that the County of Coffee in the State of Alabama, acting through its Court of County Commissioners, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, at the county courthouse in the City of Elba, in said state, beginning at 11:00 o'clock A. M. on October 16, 1944, $86,000 principal amount of General Obligation Refunding Bonds of said county to be dated July 1, 1944, consisting of eighty-six (86) bonds in the denomination of $1,000 each, bearing interest at the rate of 1-3/4 per cent per annum from their date to their respective maturities, which interest shall be payable semi-annually on January 1 and July 1.

Said bonds shall mature serially in the following aggregate principal amounts and in the following years: $3,000 in each of the years from 1945 to 1952, inclusive; $10,000 in each of the years from 1953 to 1958, inclusive; and $8,000 in 1959. Those of said bonds maturing on or before July 1, 1954, shall be subject to redemption at par and accrued interest, at the option of said county, as a whole or in part, on any interest payment date on or after July 1, 1953, after thirty days' published notice.

Said bonds will be sold as a whole. All bids must include accrued interest and the right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Said bonds will be sold subject to the validation thereof in appropriate court proceedings and subject to the unqualified approval of Messrs. Bradley, Baldwin, All & White, whose opinion will be furnished by the county to the purchaser of the bonds. No conditional bids will be considered except that bids may be made subject to such validation and objection. COUNTY OF COFFEE.

By J. W. BROCK,

Judge of Probate and Ex-Officio Chairman of the Court of County Commissioners.

95-12.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson subject and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

JESUS' PROGRAM FOR MEETING LIFE'S PROBLEMS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 4:14, 23:1-5, Luke 4:18-22.

GOLDEN TEXT—Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God—Matt. 4:4.

Problems, sorrows, needs, anxieties—how they press in on mankind from every direction. What is he to do about them? He cannot meet them in his own strength. They worry him almost to the point of despair. What shall he do?

There is just one answer, and it is blessedly simple and completely satisfying. Take Jesus as your Lord and leave them there! Cast all your care upon Him, for He careth for you (1 Pet. 5:7).

From the teachings of Jesus our lesson tells us why and how we may do this. Let us not miss its glorious and convicting message.

I. We Can Overcome Temptation Through Christ (Matt. 4:1-11).

Temptation is the common lot of all mankind (1 Cor. 10:13). The strongest and most noble of men are subject to it. Angels were tempted, and our scripture reveals that even Jesus was tempted. We recognize that Jesus was tempted as the Messiah (v. 3, 6) and as one without sin (Heb. 4:15), but it is true that He was tempted in all points as we are, apart from sin, and that we may learn from His temptation how we may meet and be the victors over temptation.

2. By depending on God, Every Scripture used by Jesus honored God.

We cannot fight Satan in our own strength, but the fruits of our faith are in using Scripture if we do not study it and hide it in our hearts?

3. By denouncing Satan, Jesus sent him on his way. We may do the same in Jesus' name. It is always a serious error to try to argue with Satan or to engage in any discussion with him. Let us meet him with Scripture and say "Get thee hence."

4. We Can Learn to Trust God for our Daily Needs (Matt. 6:31-34).

Some want to be rich. They are made clear in verses 19-24. But then there are some who while not wanting to be rich, are in constant anxiety about food and railing for the morrow.

5. What is the answer of the Lord Jesus? Consider the birds. They are not able to work, nor are they able to pray, but God feeds them. Consider the field of the flowers of the fields, for not even a king can dress himself in such beauty. "Are ye not much better than they?" (v. 26).

"As far as known, no bird ever tried to build more nests than its neighbors; no fox ever fretted because it had only one hole in which to hide; no squirrel ever died of anxiety lest he should not lay up enough nuts for two winters instead of one; and no dog ever lost any sleep over the fact that he did not have enough bones laid aside for his declining years" (Public Health Service).

Proper forethought is good and right, for we are intelligent beings, but anxiety about our daily needs is always dishonoring to God.

Yes, says someone that's all very well, but how about the future? Well, why should we fret about that? It is in God's hands, and even if it were in our hands, what could we do about it? Even tomorrow, with its needs and its blessings, with its joy and its sorrow, is not yet here, and when it does come, there will be God's gracious provision for each passing hour.

III. We Can Follow Christ in Sacrificial Service (Luke 4:16-21).

Let us be clear at once that we cannot do what Christ did, for He is the Son of God. He had a special mission to perform as the Messiah. But we may learn much from His story.

Jesus began His ministry among His own people even though He knew of their unbelief. He used the Word of God as the background for His calling. He recognized the special need of the poor and the suffering, and especially those who were bruised and broken by sin.

In all these things we may follow Jesus and possibly neglect serving their physical needs, but above all bringing to them the light of God's redeeming grace.

Here is light from the Lord on our problems of sin, sorrow, supply and service.

PVT. BUSTER ROWELL

Continued from page one and saw them surround this great port. They were set for a razing attack when the Vichy defenders capitulated before the guns of this mighty steel ring.

Throughout the winter, the 2d Armored Division guarded the border of French Morocco against the possibility that Hitler might thrust through Spanish Morocco in an effort to cut off the Chief Allied supply base of Casablanca.

The 2d Armored didn't participate in the Tunisian Campaign as a unit but gave support to the First in the Sbeitla-Kasserine Pass defeat.

"Hell on Wheels" tankmen stormed ashore July 10, 1943, at Licata and Gela, Sicily, on invasion day, for their second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the Tunisian campaign in another outfit and also led the Palermo veterans into action in the latest Normandy attack, under which the Germans are still reeling. His seizure of Palermo was the most bit of surgery of the entire Mediterranean campaign. It cut Sicily in two for its second amphibious landing in less than a year. In the first week, the Division helped capture nine towns while operating in conjunction with several other commands. Among these towns were Cannic-

ti and Caltanissetta.

I was with the leading reconnaissance unit in the headlong Armored sprint which General Patton, then Seventh Army commander, proudly referred to a few days later as "the fastest moving operation of its kind in history."

We jumped off from a point east of Castelvetrano and swung in giant arcs across the mountain ridges to the Sicilian capital, Palermo, entering it 22 hours after the attack began. En route, this column smashed three separate strongpoints with hardly a pause. It was led by a Brigadier General who fought through the

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnson and son, Riley, Mrs. William Stricklin, of Sylacauga, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Windham, Little Jerre Paul Johnson returned to Sylacauga with them for a visit.

Mrs. Malcom Plant left Thursday for Kingman, Arizona, where she will join her husband who is stationed there.

Sgt. and Mrs. Julius A. Young and Warrant Officer C. J. Wiencek, of Perry, Fla., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Young, Elba Route 3.

Mrs. Douglas Gibbs and son, Billy Mack, have returned home after a visit with her husband's people in and around Nashville, Tenn. They also visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wilson, in Roanoke, Alabama.

S-Sgt. Sam McCollough, who is stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., spent the week end with his wife and sons in Elba.

Mrs. J. V. Talley returned to her home in Jacksonville, Fla., Sunday after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Talley in Elba.

Farm For Sale

120 acres with two houses and barn; located about three miles Southeast of Elba, near Spurline's Gap on Railroad, known as R. E. Donaldson farm; all land under fence and has some timber.

Being sold for division, and bids will be received until October 25, 1944. Mail all bids to

B. L. Donaldson

LOUISVILLE, ALA.

Our Big New Peanut Warehouse

Is located in the block directly behind the Postoffice and the old Elba Bank & Trust Company building; it also faces The Clipper Office and Taylor Mule Stables on the West. We are right here in the business part of the City and very conveniently located for handling your Peanuts and other Farm Produce.

We have improved facilities for unloading your peanuts and plenty of driveways for you to get in and out of the building. We serve you as promptly as is possible anywhere. Bring us your peanuts and produce. We pay highest market prices every day.

Taylor Warehouse Co.

John, Julian and Hayward,
ELBA, ALABAMA

Every Farmer Should Have One Of Our Alemite Hand Guns

For greasing Peanut Pickers, Hay Balers, Tractors, or any other farm equipment that needs efficient lubrication. Alemite Guns will pay for themselves several times if used properly. We have just a few more left and you should get one before our present stock is exhausted.

Truck Seat Covers

We have Seat Covers for Chevrolet and Ford Trucks—late models. Also have a few sets of pre-war Seat Covers for 1942 Ford Coach. Let us put on a new set for you now, while we have them in stock.

SAFETY LIGHTS—We have left two Sets of Fog Lights or Safety Lights. These lights enable you to drive safely when conditions are bad on the highways. If you do much driving you certainly need a set of these lights.

TIME TO "DE-SLUDGE"—You should get your motor in shape for winter driving. Let us take out all that old, worn oil and grease by our "De-Sludging Process" and you'll have a better running motor. We have Oil Filter Cartridges, as well as some of the well known AC Oil Filters.

Dorsey Brothers

Phone 146

Elba, Alabama

THE ELBA THEATRE

WEEKLY PROGRAM

THURSDAY—LAST DAY
"THE LODGER"

Merle Oberon, George Sanders, Land Gregor
Admission 10c & 30c

FRIDAY—Double Feature
"LAD AND THE MONSTER"

Vera Hrubal Ralston and Richard Arlen
Western, Serial, Comedy
Admission 10c & 30c

SATURDAY ALL DAY
"RIDERS OF THE DEADLINE"

William Boyd and Frances Woodward
Admission 10c & 25c

SAT. 4 P. M.—LATE SHOW
"UNDERGROUND GUERRILLAS"

John Clements and Mary Norris
Admission 10c & 30c

SUNDAY AND MONDAY
"BRIDGE OF SAN LUIS REY"

Lynn Bari and Frances Lederer
Admission 10c & 30c

TUESDAY Only—Burgin Day
"MISSION TO MOSCOW"

Walter Huston and Ann Harding
Admission 10c & 20c

WEDNESDAY & THURSDAY
"PHANTOM OF THE OPERA"

Nelson Eddy and Susan Hayward
Admission 10c & 30c

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Ulma Mack was hostess at a birthday party given in honor of her daughter, Henrietta Mack, on her third birthday. As the guests arrived at the home on Hickman Avenue, games were played and pictures made.

The little honoree was never lovelier than on this occasion, being dressed in a party dress of deep rose.

Beautiful mints of pink and green were served throughout the party. The birthday cake, decorated in the party colors, pink and green, was cut by Miss Nan Ellenburg, a sister of the hostess. Ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Hollan Harrison.

Young friends of the honoree who were invited to this delightful party were: Myra Hawkins, Myra Maddox, Patsy Reeves, Yvonne Bryan, Sandra Harris, Suzanne Hayes, Anna Moore, Sue Morrow, Kathlene Veal, Katrene Veal, Mike Throver, Joe Brown Foster, Billy Harrison.

Mrs. Cleo C. Hawkins has accepted a position in the New Brockton High School as physical education director.

Miss Onie Mae Moore who teaches in the Brown public schools, visited relatives and friends here during last week end.

INTEREST IN LOT FOR SALE

In conformity with a resolution introduced and approved at a call meeting of East Alabama Presbytery, on the 14th day of September, 1944, the undersigned will sell to the highest bidder for cash in the Court-house door, in Elba, Alabama, at 2 o'clock P. M. (Standard Time), Wednesday, the 15th day of October, 1944, the right, title, interest and claim which the East Alabama Presbytery has in the following described real property, to-wit: "That certain lot or parcel of land described as follows: Beginning at the intersection of Simmons and Moore Streets, running South along Moore Street 100 feet to Guy Folsom, thence North 100 feet to Guy Folsom, thence North 100 feet to Guy Folsom, thence East along Simmons Street 100 feet to point of beginning. Being the property where the ruins of the old Presbyterian Church now stands, in the Town of Elba, Coffee County, Alabama."

O. VAUGHAN,
C. G. SMITH,
T. L. BEAR,
Trustees for East Alabama Presbytery.

"Noneummy"
a two-piece of knitwear
used, cotton, rayon, silk,
ray, material, red, blue
and yellow.
Sizes 9 to 15 $14.95

"Noneummy"
a two-piece of knitwear
used, cotton, rayon, silk,
ray, material, red, blue
and yellow.
Sizes 9 to 15 $14.95

Ideal Dress Shop

Mrs. Georgia Mathis, Prop.
Elba, Alabama

MRS. M. E. HALL DIES

The death angel visited the home of Mr. Marion E. Hall and took away our beloved wife and mother.

After her marriage she spent most of her time in the Pine Level community. She was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church for several years. Mrs. Hall had been in failing health for the past two years, ever since she had her first stroke, but was feeling pretty well and was up at her sister's at Glenwood, until Mrs. Barney Hall notified her that Pfc. Hall had landed safely somewhere in England. When she got the news she had another stroke and lived one week and three days, during which time she did not speak. She died on Tuesday at 4:20 o'clock.

She leaves many friends and relatives to mourn her death. It's hard to give up our sons, husband and sweethearts, but we must fight for our country, and we at home must fight and our best and wait for our loved ones to return. It is hard but the Good Lord knows best and does all things well.

She is survived by: Her husband, 3 sons, Luther Hall, of Pine Level; Almer Hall, of New Brockton; and Pfc. Barney E. Hall, somewhere in England; 5 daughters, Mrs. S. D. Smith and Misses Nettie Pearl, Annie Jo, Josephine and Beckie Lue, all of Pine Level; one sister, Mrs. Emma Golden, of Glenwood; two brothers, Mr. Oscar Parrish, of Andalusia, and Mr. Jim Parrish, of Ory.

Pallbearers were: Clim, Clarence, Dock and Bud Carpenter, Lumus Killingsworth and Bobbie Lee Parrish.

She was laid to rest in the Pine Level cemetery with Elder Jim Richards officiating.—Contributed.

Little Miss Dorothy Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Harper, who recently underwent a tonsil operation in Enterprise, is reported to be almost entirely recovered.

Mrs. Jack Dickert left Monday for Shreveport, La., where she goes to join her husband, Flight Officer Hubert J. Dickert, who has just been transferred to that city for duty.

Mrs. May McCue and son, Charlie, and Mrs. Gene Salter spent Wednesday night with Mrs. Sam McCollough.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Davis, of Fairview, visited Mrs. James O. Davis and daughter Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hammond and children, of Dothan, spent Sunday in Elba, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Price Ringo.

Sammie D. Boswell, who is stationed with the U. S. Navy at Boston, Mass., spent a few days recently at home with his wife and children.

Those to visit Mrs. and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell and family during the past week end were: Mrs. Carl Lee and children, Charles, J. T., Annie Sue and Ray, and Mrs. Monroe Lee, all of Crestview, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bruce and children, Joel and Joann, of Opelika; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boswell, of Troy; Mrs. Sam C. Boswell and children, and Nellie Wayne Carr, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Q. P. Boswell, of Wise Mill; Mr. Parker Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Fuller, of Zion; Mrs. Dennis Bush, of Montgomery, and Rev. O. M. Fox, of Elba.

Mr. Mosé Daniels, widely known farmer and prominent citizen, died suddenly at his home at Curtis early Sunday morning, following an attack of acute indigestion. He had been a resident of that community for about two years, having formerly lived in the "Pork," Northeast of Elba. News of his passing was a great shock to members of the family and friends.

Mr. Daniels was married many years ago to Miss Emma Braswell, now deceased, and to them were born the following children: Messrs. James Long King, Nadine Merritt, Phillis Clark, Mary Taylor; Messrs. Stillman, Wilbur, Burl, Mack and Bud Daniels, all of whom survive, together with his second wife, Mrs. Buna Moore Daniels, and one daughter, Louise Daniels.

Funeral services were held at White Water Church with Rev. Ziglar, Rev. Fox and Rev. Plant officiating. Active pallbearers were members of the Curtis Sunday School Class, honorary pallbearers being from a class at Woodland Grove. Flower girls represented both Curtis and Woodland Grove churches. Hayes Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs, Mrs. D. H. Davis and daughter, Muriel, and sons, Alcius and Bobbie, of Fairview, visited Mrs. James O. Davis and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell on Friday.

Those to visit Mrs. and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell and family during the past week end were: Mrs. Carl Lee and children, Charles, J. T., Annie Sue and Ray, and Mrs. Monroe Lee, all of Crestview, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bruce and children, Joel and Joann, of Opelika; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boswell, of Troy; Mrs. Sam C. Boswell and children, and Nellie Wayne Carr, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Q. P. Boswell, of Wise Mill; Mr. Parker Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Fuller, of Zion; Mrs. Dennis Bush, of Montgomery, and Rev. O. M. Fox, of Elba.

Mr. Mosé Daniels, widely known farmer and prominent citizen, died suddenly at his home at Curtis early Sunday morning, following an attack of acute indigestion. He had been a resident of that community for about two years, having formerly lived in the "Pork," Northeast of Elba. News of his passing was a great shock to members of the family and friends.

Mr. Daniels was married many years ago to Miss Emma Braswell, now deceased, and to them were born the following children: Messrs. James Long King, Nadine Merritt, Phillis Clark, Mary Taylor; Messrs. Stillman, Wilbur, Burl, Mack and Bud Daniels, all of whom survive, together with his second wife, Mrs. Buna Moore Daniels, and one daughter, Louise Daniels.

Funeral services were held at White Water Church with Rev. Ziglar, Rev. Fox and Rev. Plant officiating. Active pallbearers were members of the Curtis Sunday School Class, honorary pallbearers being from a class at Woodland Grove. Flower girls represented both Curtis and Woodland Grove churches. Hayes Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs, Mrs. D. H. Davis and daughter, Muriel, and sons, Alcius and Bobbie, of Fairview, visited Mrs. James O. Davis and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell on Friday.

Those to visit Mrs. and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell and family during the past week end were: Mrs. Carl Lee and children, Charles, J. T., Annie Sue and Ray, and Mrs. Monroe Lee, all of Crestview, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bruce and children, Joel and Joann, of Opelika; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boswell, of Troy; Mrs. Sam C. Boswell and children, and Nellie Wayne Carr, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Q. P. Boswell, of Wise Mill; Mr. Parker Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Fuller, of Zion; Mrs. Dennis Bush, of Montgomery, and Rev. O. M. Fox, of Elba.

Mr. Mosé Daniels, widely known farmer and prominent citizen, died suddenly at his home at Curtis early Sunday morning, following an attack of acute indigestion. He had been a resident of that community for about two years, having formerly lived in the "Pork," Northeast of Elba. News of his passing was a great shock to members of the family and friends.

Mr. Daniels was married many years ago to Miss Emma Braswell, now deceased, and to them were born the following children: Messrs. James Long King, Nadine Merritt, Phillis Clark, Mary Taylor; Messrs. Stillman, Wilbur, Burl, Mack and Bud Daniels, all of whom survive, together with his second wife, Mrs. Buna Moore Daniels, and one daughter, Louise Daniels.

Funeral services were held at White Water Church with Rev. Ziglar, Rev. Fox and Rev. Plant officiating. Active pallbearers were members of the Curtis Sunday School Class, honorary pallbearers being from a class at Woodland Grove. Flower girls represented both Curtis and Woodland Grove churches. Hayes Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs, Mrs. D. H. Davis and daughter, Muriel, and sons, Alcius and Bobbie, of Fairview, visited Mrs. James O. Davis and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell on Friday.

Those to visit Mrs. and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell and family during the past week end were: Mrs. Carl Lee and children, Charles, J. T., Annie Sue and Ray, and Mrs. Monroe Lee, all of Crestview, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bruce and children, Joel and Joann, of Opelika; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boswell, of Troy; Mrs. Sam C. Boswell and children, and Nellie Wayne Carr, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Q. P. Boswell, of Wise Mill; Mr. Parker Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Fuller, of Zion; Mrs. Dennis Bush, of Montgomery, and Rev. O. M. Fox, of Elba.

Mr. Mosé Daniels, widely known farmer and prominent citizen, died suddenly at his home at Curtis early Sunday morning, following an attack of acute indigestion. He had been a resident of that community for about two years, having formerly lived in the "Pork," Northeast of Elba. News of his passing was a great shock to members of the family and friends.

Mr. Daniels was married many years ago to Miss Emma Braswell, now deceased, and to them were born the following children: Messrs. James Long King, Nadine Merritt, Phillis Clark, Mary Taylor; Messrs. Stillman, Wilbur, Burl, Mack and Bud Daniels, all of whom survive, together with his second wife, Mrs. Buna Moore Daniels, and one daughter, Louise Daniels.

Funeral services were held at White Water Church with Rev. Ziglar, Rev. Fox and Rev. Plant officiating. Active pallbearers were members of the Curtis Sunday School Class, honorary pallbearers being from a class at Woodland Grove. Flower girls represented both Curtis and Woodland Grove churches. Hayes Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs, Mrs. D. H. Davis and daughter, Muriel, and sons, Alcius and Bobbie, of Fairview, visited Mrs. James O. Davis and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell on Friday.

Those to visit Mrs. and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell and family during the past week end were: Mrs. Carl Lee and children, Charles, J. T., Annie Sue and Ray, and Mrs. Monroe Lee, all of Crestview, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bruce and children, Joel and Joann, of Opelika; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boswell, of Troy; Mrs. Sam C. Boswell and children, and Nellie Wayne Carr, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Q. P. Boswell, of Wise Mill; Mr. Parker Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Fuller, of Zion; Mrs. Dennis Bush, of Montgomery, and Rev. O. M. Fox, of Elba.

Mr. Mosé Daniels, widely known farmer and prominent citizen, died suddenly at his home at Curtis early Sunday morning, following an attack of acute indigestion. He had been a resident of that community for about two years, having formerly lived in the "Pork," Northeast of Elba. News of his passing was a great shock to members of the family and friends.

Mr. Daniels was married many years ago to Miss Emma Braswell, now deceased, and to them were born the following children: Messrs. James Long King, Nadine Merritt, Phillis Clark, Mary Taylor; Messrs. Stillman, Wilbur, Burl, Mack and Bud Daniels, all of whom survive, together with his second wife, Mrs. Buna Moore Daniels, and one daughter, Louise Daniels.

Funeral services were held at White Water Church with Rev. Ziglar, Rev. Fox and Rev. Plant officiating. Active pallbearers were members of the Curtis Sunday School Class, honorary pallbearers being from a class at Woodland Grove. Flower girls represented both Curtis and Woodland Grove churches. Hayes Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs, Mrs. D. H. Davis and daughter, Muriel, and sons, Alcius and Bobbie, of Fairview, visited Mrs. James O. Davis and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell on Friday.

Those to visit Mrs. and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell and family during the past week end were: Mrs. Carl Lee and children, Charles, J. T., Annie Sue and Ray, and Mrs. Monroe Lee, all of Crestview, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bruce and children, Joel and Joann, of Opelika; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boswell, of Troy; Mrs. Sam C. Boswell and children, and Nellie Wayne Carr, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Q. P. Boswell, of Wise Mill; Mr. Parker Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Fuller, of Zion; Mrs. Dennis Bush, of Montgomery, and Rev. O. M. Fox, of Elba.

Mr. Mosé Daniels, widely known farmer and prominent citizen, died suddenly at his home at Curtis early Sunday morning, following an attack of acute indigestion. He had been a resident of that community for about two years, having formerly lived in the "Pork," Northeast of Elba. News of his passing was a great shock to members of the family and friends.

Mr. Daniels was married many years ago to Miss Emma Braswell, now deceased, and to them were born the following children: Messrs. James Long King, Nadine Merritt, Phillis Clark, Mary Taylor; Messrs. Stillman, Wilbur, Burl, Mack and Bud Daniels, all of whom survive, together with his second wife, Mrs. Buna Moore Daniels, and one daughter, Louise Daniels.

Those to visit Mrs. and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell and family during the past week end were: Mrs. Carl Lee and children, Charles, J. T., Annie Sue and Ray, and Mrs. Monroe Lee, all of Crestview, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bruce and children, Joel and Joann, of Opelika; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boswell, of Troy; Mrs. Sam C. Boswell and children, and Nellie Wayne Carr, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Q. P. Boswell, of Wise Mill; Mr. Parker Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Fuller, of Zion; Mrs. Dennis Bush, of Montgomery, and Rev. O. M. Fox, of Elba.

Mr. Mosé Daniels, widely known farmer and prominent citizen, died suddenly at his home at Curtis early Sunday morning, following an attack of acute indigestion. He had been a resident of that community for about two years, having formerly lived in the "Pork," Northeast of Elba. News of his passing was a great shock to members of the family and friends.

Mr. Daniels was married many years ago to Miss Emma Braswell, now deceased, and to them were born the following children: Messrs. James Long King, Nadine Merritt, Phillis Clark, Mary Taylor; Messrs. Stillman, Wilbur, Burl, Mack and Bud Daniels, all of whom survive, together with his second wife, Mrs. Buna Moore Daniels, and one daughter, Louise Daniels.

Funeral services were held at White Water Church with Rev. Ziglar, Rev. Fox and Rev. Plant officiating. Active pallbearers were members of the Curtis Sunday School Class, honorary pallbearers being from a class at Woodland Grove. Flower girls represented both Curtis and Woodland Grove churches. Hayes Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs, Mrs. D. H. Davis and daughter, Muriel, and sons, Alcius and Bobbie, of Fairview, visited Mrs. James O. Davis and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell on Friday.

Those to visit Mrs. and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell and family during the past week end were: Mrs. Carl Lee and children, Charles, J. T., Annie Sue and Ray, and Mrs. Monroe Lee, all of Crestview, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bruce and children, Joel and Joann, of Opelika; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boswell, of Troy; Mrs. Sam C. Boswell and children, and Nellie Wayne Carr, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Q. P. Boswell, of Wise Mill; Mr. Parker Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Fuller, of Zion; Mrs. Dennis Bush, of Montgomery, and Rev. O. M. Fox, of Elba.

Mr. Mosé Daniels, widely known farmer and prominent citizen, died suddenly at his home at Curtis early Sunday morning, following an attack of acute indigestion. He had been a resident of that community for about two years, having formerly lived in the "Pork," Northeast of Elba. News of his passing was a great shock to members of the family and friends.

Mr. Daniels was married many years ago to Miss Emma Braswell, now deceased, and to them were born the following children: Messrs. James Long King, Nadine Merritt, Phillis Clark, Mary Taylor; Messrs. Stillman, Wilbur, Burl, Mack and Bud Daniels, all of whom survive, together with his second wife, Mrs. Buna Moore Daniels, and one daughter, Louise Daniels.

Funeral services were held at White Water Church with Rev. Ziglar, Rev. Fox and Rev. Plant officiating. Active pallbearers were members of the Curtis Sunday School Class, honorary pallbearers being from a class at Woodland Grove. Flower girls represented both Curtis and Woodland Grove churches. Hayes Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs, Mrs. D. H. Davis and daughter, Muriel, and sons, Alcius and Bobbie, of Fairview, visited Mrs. James O. Davis and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell on Friday.

Those to visit Mrs. and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell and family during the past week end were: Mrs. Carl Lee and children, Charles, J. T., Annie Sue and Ray, and Mrs. Monroe Lee, all of Crestview, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bruce and children, Joel and Joann, of Opelika; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boswell, of Troy; Mrs. Sam C. Boswell and children, and Nellie Wayne Carr, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Q. P. Boswell, of Wise Mill; Mr. Parker Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Fuller, of Zion; Mrs. Dennis Bush, of Montgomery, and Rev. O. M. Fox, of Elba.

Mr. Mosé Daniels, widely known farmer and prominent citizen, died suddenly at his home at Curtis early Sunday morning, following an attack of acute indigestion. He had been a resident of that community for about two years, having formerly lived in the "Pork," Northeast of Elba. News of his passing was a great shock to members of the family and friends.

Mr. Daniels was married many years ago to Miss Emma Braswell, now deceased, and to them were born the following children: Messrs. James Long King, Nadine Merritt, Phillis Clark, Mary Taylor; Messrs. Stillman, Wilbur, Burl, Mack and Bud Daniels, all of whom survive, together with his second wife, Mrs. Buna Moore Daniels, and one daughter, Louise Daniels.

Funeral services were held at White Water Church with Rev. Ziglar, Rev. Fox and Rev. Plant officiating. Active pallbearers were members of the Curtis Sunday School Class, honorary pallbearers being from a class at Woodland Grove. Flower girls represented both Curtis and Woodland Grove churches. Hayes Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs, Mrs. D. H. Davis and daughter, Muriel, and sons, Alcius and Bobbie, of Fairview, visited Mrs. James O. Davis and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell on Friday.

Those to visit Mrs. and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell and family during the past week end were: Mrs. Carl Lee and children, Charles, J. T., Annie Sue and Ray, and Mrs. Monroe Lee, all of Crestview, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bruce and children, Joel and Joann, of Opelika; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boswell, of Troy; Mrs. Sam C. Boswell and children, and Nellie Wayne Carr, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Q. P. Boswell, of Wise Mill; Mr. Parker Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Fuller, of Zion; Mrs. Dennis Bush, of Montgomery, and Rev. O. M. Fox, of Elba.

Mr. Mosé Daniels, widely known farmer and prominent citizen, died suddenly at his home at Curtis early Sunday morning, following an attack of acute indigestion. He had been a resident of that community for about two years, having formerly lived in the "Pork," Northeast of Elba. News of his passing was a great shock to members of the family and friends.

Mr. Daniels was married many years ago to Miss Emma Braswell, now deceased, and to them were born the following children: Messrs. James Long King, Nadine Merritt, Phillis Clark, Mary Taylor; Messrs. Stillman, Wilbur, Burl, Mack and Bud Daniels, all of whom survive, together with his second wife, Mrs. Buna Moore Daniels, and one daughter, Louise Daniels.

Funeral services were held at White Water Church with Rev. Ziglar, Rev. Fox and Rev. Plant officiating. Active pallbearers were members of the Curtis Sunday School Class, honorary pallbearers being from a class at Woodland Grove. Flower girls represented both Curtis and Woodland Grove churches. Hayes Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs, Mrs. D. H. Davis and daughter, Muriel, and sons, Alcius and Bobbie, of Fairview, visited Mrs. James O. Davis and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell on Friday.

Those to visit Mrs. and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell and family during the past week end were: Mrs. Carl Lee and children, Charles, J. T., Annie Sue and Ray, and Mrs. Monroe Lee, all of Crestview, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bruce and children, Joel and Joann, of Opelika; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boswell, of Troy; Mrs. Sam C. Boswell and children, and Nellie Wayne Carr, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Q. P. Boswell, of Wise Mill; Mr. Parker Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Fuller, of Zion; Mrs. Dennis Bush, of Montgomery, and Rev. O. M. Fox, of Elba.

Mr. Mosé Daniels, widely known farmer and prominent citizen, died suddenly at his home at Curtis early Sunday morning, following an attack of acute indigestion. He had been a resident of that community for about two years, having formerly lived in the "Pork," Northeast of Elba. News of his passing was a great shock to members of the family and friends.

Mr. Daniels was married many years ago to Miss Emma Braswell, now deceased, and to them were born the following children: Messrs. James Long King, Nadine Merritt, Phillis Clark, Mary Taylor; Messrs. Stillman, Wilbur, Burl, Mack and Bud Daniels, all of whom survive, together with his second wife, Mrs. Buna Moore Daniels, and one daughter, Louise Daniels.

Funeral services were held at White Water Church with Rev. Ziglar, Rev. Fox and Rev. Plant officiating. Active pallbearers were members of the Curtis Sunday School Class, honorary pallbearers being from a class at Woodland Grove. Flower girls represented both Curtis and Woodland Grove churches. Hayes Funeral Home had charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs, Mrs. D. H. Davis and daughter, Muriel, and sons, Alcius and Bobbie, of Fairview, visited Mrs. James O. Davis and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell on Friday.

Those to visit Mrs. and Mrs. Sammie D. Boswell and family during the past week end were: Mrs. Carl Lee and children, Charles, J. T., Annie Sue and Ray, and Mrs. Monroe Lee, all of Crestview, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bruce and children, Joel and Joann, of Opelika; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Kelley, of Bluff Springs; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boswell, of Troy; Mrs. Sam C. Boswell and children, and Nellie Wayne Carr, of Zion; Mr. and Mrs. Q. P. Boswell, of Wise Mill; Mr. Parker Grant and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Fuller, of Zion; Mrs. Dennis Bush, of Montgomery, and Rev. O. M. Fox, of Elba.

Mr. Mosé Daniels, widely known farmer and prominent citizen, died suddenly at his home at Curtis early Sunday morning, following an attack of acute indigestion. He had been a resident of that community for about two years, having formerly lived in the "Pork," Northeast of Elba. News of his passing was a great shock to members of the family and friends.

Mr. Daniels was married many years ago to Miss Emma Braswell, now deceased, and to them were born the following children: Messrs. James Long